

I'm worried about getting lost and being in trouble for being late

For the first few weeks all new students (and teachers!) worry about getting lost round school.

This is not something to worry about and within the first couple of weeks you will know where to go for every lesson. Teachers understand that students get lost when they first start so you will not get into trouble.

If you are running late please don't worry, someone will support you in getting to your lesson.
