

I am worried about completing homework and not being able to ask a teacher for help

Homework can be a big worry for students and parents, but we have a good system in school to help support you.

Firstly, you don't have to write down your homework – at King Egbert we use Edulink where all your teachers type up the homework and attach any documents you may need to do it. You can access Edulink on a computer but there is also an app that you and your parents can download and log into.

If we think you might benefit from a bit more support (and focus) for your homework, we also run a homework club and we will send a letter to your parents inviting you.
